- 1 Place the walltube into the hole until it reaches the outside edge of hole. Mark on the tube where it should be cut so that it fits the correct depth of the hole
- 2 Cut the walltube to correct size
- 3 Fold the grille so the external flaps are horizontal. Bend in the direction indicated by the arrows printed on the grille

- 4 Place the folded grille into the hole, taking care to hold the grille with one hand and the securing string with the other

- 5 Slide the grille along the hole until it has completely exited the outside wall

- 6 Turning the grille 90degrees will enable the folded grille to open automatically

- 7 Ensure that the arrows at the bottom on the inside of the grille are pointing downwards. Using the securing string, pull the grille inwards until it is supported by the outside wall. Note the arrows on inside of the grille indicating correct orientation of the grille in the hole.
